Admission criteria [go.osu.edu/marionadmissions]

All Ohio State regional campuses have an open admissions policy for Ohio residents. If you are an Ohio resident, have graduated from high school or have a GED, and have never attended college, you will be admitted. If you are not a resident of Ohio, or if you are transferring from another college, you will have to meet applicable admissions criteria. For more information, contact the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid at (740) 725-6242.

Where our students live

You may think all of our students are from Marion County. While one-third do call Marion home, we have students from all over central Ohio and as far away as Chicago.

Ohio State Marion offers one of the best educational values in the state of Ohio and around the country. Our full-time tuition rate is only $3,570 per semester, one of the lowest university tuition rates in Ohio.

Federal and external financial aid
Over 80% of Ohio State Marion students receive some type of financial assistance. While you can file it later if necessary, completing your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at www.fafsa.gov by February 15 is strongly encouraged in order to maximize your financial aid options. Ohio State’s FAFSA code is 003090.

Campus-based scholarships and financial aid
Over $1 million awarded to our students each academic year
In addition to federal and other external financial aid, Ohio State Marion manages over 45 individual scholarship funds, which provide over $1.1 million annually in campus-based scholarships and grants. New students admitted to Ohio State Marion by February 15, 2015 for the 2015-2016 academic year will receive first consideration for available scholarship funds. Students admitted after that date will be considered on a funds-available basis only. No separate scholarship application is required for new applicants. Our awards generally range from $450 to $2,250 per semester, and are based on prior academic performance, financial need, or a combination of both.

Taking the next step

Learn how to turn work experience, life experience, and prior college experience into the basis for a bachelor’s degree. The faculty and staff at Ohio State Marion know what it’s like to return to college a little older and a little wiser. We understand how intimidating it can be to register for classes and take that first step into a classroom. But we also know it can be your turning point to a better, brighter future.

Over 22% of our student population is considered non-traditional.

Non-traditional students are considered to be away from high school for more than five years, have military experience, be married or divorced, or be a parent or caregiver.

Moving forward: being a non-traditional student

“I was self-employed for 16 years and during the last 3 to 4 years I noticed a drastic decrease in the amount of work available. Knowing that I could no longer afford to continue taking a risk in being self-employed, I decided to look for other options. Searching the job market I observed there were a number of jobs available, but they required at least an associate’s degree. This is when I decided that a college degree was going to be necessary for me to be more successful in the future. This was not an easy step because I thought I had been out of school for too long and that I would not be able to handle the workload. However, looking back after these last three and a half years I have realized that if you take that one stigma that is holding you back and believe that you can do it, anything is possible.”

Doug Bolles
Class of 2014
Majors: Business and Psychology

“Several years ago I made the decision that just getting by was no longer good enough for my family. I realized if I wanted a better life for us I would need to get my college degree. I decided Ohio State Marion was the perfect fit: a world-renowned university, 25 minutes from home, a small campus atmosphere, flexible class scheduling, and a price tag I could afford. The small class sizes allowed me the opportunity to know my professors personally, and it allowed them the opportunity to know me as well. The small class sizes also allowed me the opportunity to meet other students who shared my passion for education. After four years, I have graduated from The Ohio State University with Summa Cum Laude honors and a BS in Middle Elementary Education – the first in my family to earn a college degree. While I know this accomplishment is a result of my own passion and dedication, I feel the support I have received from the faculty and staff of this campus has been instrumental in my success.”

Jessica Creamer

Study Abroad Opportunities • go.osu.edu/marionstudyabroad
The world is yours to discover! Students at Ohio State Marion have the opportunity to participate in study abroad experiences that can range in length from one week to a full year. Students can register for programs sponsored by the Marion campus or the Columbus campus. Studying abroad promotes cross-cultural understanding, broadens your worldview, and prepares you for your future.

Honors Opportunities • go.osu.edu/marionhonors
Honors opportunities are available for students seeking greater challenges from their college experience. Honors courses are offered in many subject areas. In addition, honors students receive opportunities for research experiences, individualized work with faculty, priority scheduling, and the development and presentation of a senior honors thesis.

Internships • go.osu.edu/marioncareer
In preparing for a meaningful career, one of the most valuable steps is completing an internship before you graduate. Besides the opportunity to enhance soft and hard skills, there are other reasons to pursue an internship opportunity: gain real world experience, set yourself apart, continue your learning, and test the waters of your chosen career field. The Office of Career Services can assist you with locating, applying for, and receiving academic credit for internships, and how to use internships to advance your career development.

World-class learning: build a unique resumé
From Excellence to Eminence

Ohio State is the nation’s most comprehensive research university. The university’s impressive growth in research expenditures and our commitment to excellence in research reflects the vitality, creativity, and hard work of Ohio State’s dedicated researchers. As one Ohio State University, we will continue to strive to retain, attract, and reward the world’s top researchers and scholars, as we continue our journey to becoming the best land-grant university in the nation.

Students Make a Difference ■ Pay It Forward Marion

Pay It Forward Marion is a program created and cooperatively administered by English faculty at The Ohio State University at Marion in cooperation with the United Way of Marion County. Pay It Forward Marion links students in six different English courses at Ohio State Marion with area non-profit organizations and their individual causes. Students learn details about the importance of philanthropy, grant writing, volunteering, and fundraising through direct work with regional cause-driven charitable organizations. As part of Ohio State Marion’s course-based, service-learning initiative, the purpose of Pay It Forward Marion is to promote civic engagement in English courses, ranging from beginner to advanced, and to improve the local community through skill-based service and philanthropy.
